A Support Network of Recovery Residences in Pennsylvania

The Discussion >>

PARR Meets Community Needs Throughout Pennsylvania

The National Alliance of Recovery Residences (NARR) now fills these voids. In 2010, industry leaders from across the United States came together to define levels of care and to create a standard of care to ensure the highest quality of care at each level.

PARR is an affiliate of NARR, and adherence to the NARR standard ensures that recovery homes throughout Pennsylvania are safe and supportive environments that promote recovery.

What We Do & Why

Ensuring Safe & Supportive Housing

PARR is the local resource for recovery residences to ensure that recovery homes in Pennsylvania abide by standards and protocols for ethical practice and have training and state of the art information pertaining to residential operations.

Throughout Pennsylvania there are two major distinctions within the recovery home network: some homes receive funding from Single County Authorities (SCA), and homes that do not. Each County is different in their requirements, but many homes must verify licensing compliance as well as proof of ownership of the property, general liability insurance, proof of current utility bills, and proof of 501c3 or non-profit designation before they can receive funding. SCA funded houses tend to have more direct oversight, referrals are usually generated through the housing initiative office, and the houses typically have staff coverage around the clock. Heretofore, neither oversight nor support existed for the unfunded homes.

the NARR standard (see sidebar), applicants undergo a certification/application process that involves:

PARR assists the unfunded, unregulated network of well over 200 residences

1. Review of application materials and requisite building and business licenses.
2. Interviews with the owner and operator of the recovery home(s).
3. Inspection of the properties.

All PARR residences are required to adhere to the NARR standard and are evaluated on a yearly basis.

Our mission at PARR is to create, evaluate and improve standards and measures of quality for all levels of recovery residences. PARR provides a forum for exchanging ideas to include developing uniformity for our field, problem solving and advocacy.

In order to ensure that PARR recovery homes are operating in accordance to
